EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

IN THE SPECIFICATION:

On page 6, line 6, the reference character "θ" was deleted since that character does not appear to be illustrated in the drawings.

IN THE TITLE:

Please note the title of the invention has been changed by the Examiner to the following to more accurately reflect the claimed invention:

--IMAGE FORMING APPARATUS INCLUDING ROTARY DRUM AND DETACHABLY MOUNTED CHUCK--

Reasons for Allowance

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

With respect to claims 1 and 11 in particular, the prior art of record fails to teach or fairly suggest a fixing structure for detachably fixing a sheet member having all of the structure as specifically recited, in combination with and particularly including, a rotor having an outer peripheral surface and an inner peripheral surface portion and including a plurality of through slots formed in the outer peripheral surface and communicating the outer peripheral surface with the inner peripheral surface portion and a chuck detachably mountable to the rotor including a support with a clamp plate disposed on one end of the support and a base section disposed on the other end of the support, wherein when the chuck is mounted on the rotor, the base section is inserted and passed through one associated through-slot and then hooked over the inner peripheral surface portion (emphasis added).

Note the closest prior art found by the Examiner is Kawada et al. (US 6,164,204), which includes a chuck detachably mountable to a hollow cylindrical body (i.e., rotor) that includes an outer peripheral surface and an inner peripheral surface portion as shown, for example, in Figures 3 and 7(a) -7(b) in particular. However, note that Kawada et al. fails to teach or suggest a plurality of through slots formed in the outer peripheral surface and communicating the outer peripheral surface with the inner peripheral surface portion. Note the device of Kawada instead includes a plurality of T-shaped grooves that extend from the outer surface inward, but do not extend through the entire cylinder body through to the inner peripheral surface portion such that the base section of the chuck is hooked over the inner peripheral surface portion when the chuck is mounted on the rotor. Therefore, Kawada et al. fail to teach or fairly suggest the fixing device as specifically recited.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
